Directions

Tübingen main station → Computer Science Department

(1) By car

Parking at the department is not an issue, as there are a parking lots available at the department (see map). Other than that, Tübingen is not the most car driver friendly town. So be prepared for a lot of speed cameras, one-way streets and tempo limitations.

(2) By bus

Practically all bus lines stop at the main station Tübingen Hauptbahnhof, including line 2. If you take line 2 (direction WHO Ulmenweg not Mühlbachäcker) it will get you straight to the department at station Sand Drosselweg. The walk from there is less than 5 minutes.

You will have to buy tickets inside the bus at the ticket machine. A regular ticket costs 2.40€ and is valid for 2 hours inside of Tübingen. The daily ticket costs 4.20€. You will need small change for the ticket machines as they don't accept anything else.

(3) By foot

Since Tübingen is relatively small, most places can be reached by foot. A walk from the mainstation to the department will take you roughly 45 minutes.

Where to find us at the Computer Science Department

Currently, our group is split. The laboratory and work group offices are at Sand 6. Please come to room F116 to say hi. This is the third door on the right when you enter the building as shown on the map above.

The room of Prof. Franz is in a different building. You get there by entering Sand 14 as marked on the map. Inside the building turn right at take the stairs to the next floor. Then walk down the floor towards the center of the building and then walk down the floor to your left (east wing). Almost at the end you will find B215. Instead of taking the stairs you can take the elevator at the center of the building.
